SOFA BY FRATO

I have always enjoyed this sofa from Frato because of the architectural quilting. This newer version incorporates to some wood into the original design and comes in a gorgeous honey-mustard hue.

KAJ BY ALIA MAZROOEI

KAJ is a piece by designer Alia Mazrooei, as part of the UAE design stories series, which pulls on ancient traditions to create new objects. This table was inspired by "Kajojah" a support system used by Alia's ancestors, a table base made out of metal with a cushion on top used to make telli, a traditional embroidery hand-braided out of silver and gold threads as seen on women clothing. The Kajojah is a form of two cones mirrored on top of each other, stabilised to hold the cushion. 'KAJ' was inspired by the cone form of the Kajojah to design the base of the tray table, made out of a gypsum-based resin in a terrazzo style. The top of the base is a tinted transparent organic form with a flat surface acting as a tabletop.

BREATH OF LIGHT, PRECIOSA LIGHT INSTALLATION

This installation is a beautiful and mesmerising display of glass globes at varying heights, sizes and opacity of glass from Czech lighting producer Preciosa Lighting. The globes light up in groups with varying levels of brightness and periods of time, all in line with the background music. The space is approximately 6 x 6 metres in its entirety. Michael Vasku, Creative Director for Preciosa Lighting commented on the exhibition, "It's fascinating for us to see visitors from across the region experience this playful, interactive installation."
